China says it's ready to work with India

KJ M VARMA
Beijing, 17 August

China on Monday said it is ready to work with India to enhance political mutual trust, properly manage their differences and safeguard the long-term development of bilateral ties. Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesman Zhao Lijian said this at a regular briefing when a Western media journalist sought China's reaction to Prime Minister Narendra Modi's remarks that the Indian armed forces have given a befitting reply to those challenging the country's sovereignty.

Modi, in his 74th Independence Day address to the nation from the ramparts of Red Fort, said the armed forces have given a befitting reply to those challenging the country's sovereignty "from LoC to LAC", in a veiled reference to Pakistan and China. "From LoC (Line of Control) to LAC (Line of Actual Control), anyone who casts an eye on the sovereignty of the country, the armed forces have responded in the language they understand," Modi said.

with China along the LAC in eastern Ladakh and rise in incidents of ceasefire violations along the LoC with Pakistan in the last few months. Responding to the question, Chinese foreign ministry spokesman Zhao said that "we have noted Prime Minister Modi's speech." "We are close neighbours, we are emerging countries with over one billion people. So, the sound development of bilateral ties not only serves the interest of the two peoples but also stability, peace, prosperity of the region and the whole world," he said.

"The right path for the two sides is to respect and support each other as this serves our long-term interests," Zhao said. "So, China stands ready to work with India to enhance our political mutual trust, properly manage our differences, step-up practical cooperation and safeguard the long-term development of bilateral ties," the spokesman added. In his speech, Prime Minister Modi also said that "whether it is terrorism or expansionism, India is fighting both with determination." PTI

HC tells DU to hold physical exams from September 14

The Delhi High Court on Monday directed Delhi University to commence physical exams for final year undergraduate students from September 14, and to work out modalities for stay and transportation of disabled students who had left the national capital during the pandemic lockdown. The court asked the varsity to verify the number of students belonging to 'persons with disability' (PwD) category who were left out of online Open Book Examination (OBE) and would sit for exams physically. "You (DU) will have to find out where PwD students are located. Sufficient notice has to be given to them to allow them to travel. Can it be possible to allow them to take examinations where they are? By roping in the universities there," it said. PTI

SC says no to deferring JEE, NEET exams

The Supreme Court on Monday dismissed a plea seeking postponement of JEE (Main) April 2020 and NEET-Undergraduate examinations, which are scheduled to be conducted in September, amid spurt in number of Covid-19 cases, saying precious year of students "cannot be wasted" and life has to go on. A three-judge Bench headed by Justice Arun Mishra said career of students "cannot be put under jeopardy for long." "Life has to go on. Life has to move ahead. Precious year of students cannot be wasted," the Bench, also comprising Justices B R Gavai and Krishna Murari, said during the hearing conducted through videoconferencing while paving the way for commencement of the exams as scheduled. ## Made in India iPhone...

The plant has already received over half of its planned investment and is expected to be fully operational by October.

Expansion of Wistron's production capacity is in line with Apple's mid-term goals - adding newer models quickly into its 'Made in India' portfolio. Sources said while the new facility in Narasapura (Karnataka) could be dedicated for the upcoming iPhone 12, its existing plant in Bengaluru will be used to produce iPhone SE (2020). The American multinational had recently confirmed that its next-generation iPhone 12 would be delayed beyond September in global retail stores. "Last year, we started selling iPhones in late September. This year, we expect supply to be available a few weeks later," Chief Financial Officer Luca Maestri had said in an earnings call without giving reasons. Analysts attributed the delay to lower consumer demand and manufacturing hurdles during the pandemic.

In a change in stand, Apple is now betting on India aggressively. While it began local production with iPhone SE (1st Gen) in 2017 at Wistron's Bengaluru facility, it added 6S a year later. However, both have now been discontinued as newer models like XR and 11 became popular. The shift has left capacity at Wistron's facilities unutilised.

The move to produce iPhone 12 in India is part of Apple's long-term plan to reduce dependence on China. Initiatives such as production linked incentive (PLI) scheme have paved the way for further localisation. Currently, its largest partner Foxconn assembles iPhone 7, XR and 11 at its Sri City facility near Hyderabad. The second generation SE handsets, launched in April, is currently the cheapest iPhone available in the market with a starting price of ₹42,500. The iPhone 12 (5G) range is expected to start at ₹70,000.

Analysts at IDC, a market intelligence firm, pointed out that iPhone SE (2020) became one of the top five sold models in the above-₹40,000 price range during the April-June quarter. "Apple continued to dominate the segment with a market share of 48.8 per cent, followed by Samsung and OnePlus," it said. "Through the latest launch of its most affordable iPhone SE (2020), Apple is looking forward to encouraging the transition of more users from Android to iOS to gain share in the overall ecosystem. It kept the top spot in the segment, driven by strong demand for iPhone 11", analysts at Counterpoint Research said.

In fact, the overwhelming response for iPhone 11 accelerated Apple's plans for local production of iPhone 12. Prior to that, two to three-year-old models used to drive sales.

According to Counterpoint, Apple became one of the fastest-growing brands in October-December 2019, driven by iPhone 11 and XR. "Multiple price cuts on its XR (launched in 2018) device, thanks to manufacturing in India, helped. Additionally, 2019 saw the fastest rollout of Apple's new iPhones (11 series) in India, with aggressive pricing and a good channel strategy."

50,000 trucks...

He pointed out that financiers including Shriram Transport have been providing working capital requirements. With the lockdown easing, things are improving month-on-month, he added.

Meanwhile, an end to the holiday from paying road tax on September 30, among others, is also bothering truck owners.

On June 9, the government extended the validity date of motor vehicle documents till September 30. Balmalkit Singh, former president of the Bombay Goods Transport Association, seconds IFTRT's Singh. "Demand is extremely sluggish. Only 40 per cent of the fleet is being utilised. Most transporters will not be able to meet their commitment, leading to a default. It's going to be a huge crisis if the moratorium is not extended."

Transporters have survived for so long because of the EMI holiday. High diesel prices and low freight have also weighed on the business, he added.

Residential launches...

The new launches also mark the company's re-entry into the Mumbai market.

Despite a 56 per cent fall in residential launches in the first half of the year compared to the second half of 2019, Anarock Property Consultants believes that consolidation in residential real estate is expected to gain ground, and that branded players may garner a market share of 75-80 per cent. Sales declined by 49 per cent during the period.

Brigade Group, which had deferred a couple of its residential projects, is also planning to launch them in the second and third quarters. Total investment in these projects, located in Hyderabad and Bengaluru, will be over ₹1,000 crore.

"We believe that demand for residential projects by bigger brands like Brigade will continue to be there even in these difficult times. Therefore, we will continue to launch new projects after a proper market assessment," said Rajendra Joshi, CEO, residential business at Brigade Group.

Some players, however, continue to be cautious. "We will launch new projects, but before that we are waiting and watching how this pandemic pans out. Demand is slowly coming to pre-Covid days," said a Sobha spokesperson. The company's upcoming residential projects are located across nine cities, with a total built-up area of 14.36 million square feet.

In Mumbai, developers such as Oberoi Realty are banking on Diwali to launch projects. Godrej Properties, which has 15 million sq ft of launches planned in FY21, is waiting for approvals. "As long as regulatory approvals are received in time, we will go ahead with our planned launches. We will, of course, have to be agile and tweak our strategy if needed after gauging the market environment," said Pirojsha Godrej in a recent interview with Business Standard. Gaurav Kumar, managing director, capital markets and residential business, CBRE India, believes that the pent-up demand of the last six months, a reduction in interest rates of home loans, the availability of completed units, and the 'work-from-home' imperative are expected to contribute to a strong recovery in the second half of 2020.

"We are already seeing signs of a revival with sales in the mid-market segment picking up across all metro cities," Kumar said.

However, Amit Bhagat, managing director of fund management company ASK Property Investment Advisors, asks developers to be cautious. "It is advisable for developers to plan launches for affordable and mid-segment housing in H2 of 2020-21 since demand will gradually come back. It will be prudent to do a financial closure with tied up construction finance to avoid overdependence on cash flow from pre sales," Bhagat said.
